

FAMILY CHORE CHART

These Chore Charts can be used and adapted by families of all sizes. Keeping your household clean, tidy and organized in a consistent and methodical way will help your family run along like a well-oiled machine. Two sample charts are provided for illustration, one for the standard Chore Chart and one for the Laundry Chore Chart.

HOW TO MAKE THE CHORE CHART

You will find blank white rectangles, blank colored rectangles and rectangles with pre-printed labels. If you are putting 6 people on a standard Chore Chart you will use 6 white and 6 colored rectangles. Print off only the pages you need. I recommend cardstock as it lasts longer. The blank colored rectangles are for you to customize if you so choose.

Cut out the rectangles. On each blank colored rectangle write a chore you want completed, or you may use the colored rectangles that have pre-printed chores on them. These colored rectangles are Chore Cards.

Fasten the blank white rectangles to a piece of paper with glue or tape. If you have a large family you may need to use 11"x17" paper or poster board for your chart. Leave space ABOVE each white rectangle to write the names of the people who will be doing chores. Laminating everything at this point will save you a lot of work in the future

Using sticky-tac, place each Chore Card under a name, on top of the white rectangles (which serve as placeholders for the Chore Cards). Each person is responsible for the chore placed under their name.

After one week (or any length of time you designate) move all the Chore Cards down one space, and move the bottom card to the top. This keeps the rotation of chores even and allows you to ensure that each child in the family has been taught how to do all the chores. You can adapt the standard Chore Chart to assign multiple chores per person by placing more white rectangles under each name. The number of chores per name does not have to be the same. For example, you might give more chores to an older child.

HOW TO USE THE CHORE CHART

If you have some young children and some older children, consider using two charts – one with more simple tasks, one with more advanced tasks.

Consider using one chore chart for 'everyday' chores, and a second chart for 'earning' chores (for example to earn money, computer time, video time, friend time, treats or privileges).

You might also have one chart for Everyday, one for Once a Week, and one for Once a Month.

I keep my charts inside a kitchen cupboard door (my pantry door) so they are easily accessible by all.

Blessings!
